Trick or Treat

Ghosts, goblins and all sorts of other scary ghouls were on the prowl last Tuesday evening, marking the last day of October, also known as Hallowe'en. This assortment of trick-or-treaters was caught in the act by Times photographer Matthew Sittler.

Friends of Minden seek support for Heritage Tour

The members of Anson, Hindon and Minden Council supported in principle a proposal by the Friends of Minden to develop a Minden Heritage Tour. Although council supports the proposal, it was made clear that it could not make a financial commitment that would be binding to the future council of Minden Hills.

The Friends of Minden have made application to the Haliburton County Development Corporation for funding for the project. The Friends were required to solicit community support as part of the terms of the application. The proposed partners for the venture include the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden, the Minden Business Association and the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce. A number of other groups, including Haliburton Highlands Trails and Tours, Haliburton Highlands Genealogy Group, Agnes Jamieson Gallery and Museum, The Times, Heart Connection, AH&M Environmental Advisory Committee and the Walking Club have confirmed their approval for the project, as have several businesses and individuals.

Linnea Baynton, representing the Friends of Minden, explained the project to council. She told council Minden Township heritage plaques would be placed at heritage buildings and sites. A pamphlet would be produced to act as a self-guided tour reference. Signage would also be placed along the Minden Trail from the Museum, through the park to the heritage buildings along the Gull River on North Water Street. A sign would be placed at the Main Street bridge identifying its heritage aspects and TODS signs would be placed on Highway 35 advertising the Minden Heritage Tour in an attempt to attract tourists from the 35 corridor into the village. Also in the plan is a Minden Heritage Tour web page, with links to the new Chamber of Commerce and Trails and Tours websites, as well as The Times website.

A report on the project would be produced as a how-to model for a

Highlands-wide Heritage Tour, designed to bring increased heritage tourism to the entire county.

The total projected budget for the project is $12,878. Baynton explained the breakdown of the funding, which called for $2,495 from the Haliburton County Development Corporation, $2,040 from the Minden Business Association, $2,800 from the Chamber of Commerce, $3,115 ($1,115 cash and $2,000 worth of in-kind contributions, such as installation of posts) from the municipality and $2,550 from other sources, such as donations.

Reeve Jeanné Anthon congratulated the Friends of Minden Committee for preparing such a comprehensive proposal. It was pointed out that Minden could be a model for a county-wide heritage tour.

Baynton stressed that the project is designed with the goal of becoming self-sufficient.

The project depends on the support of all the partners. Baynton noted that if one of the partners does not come on-board, it will not proceed.

Council agreed to provide a letter expressing support in principal so the committee could take its proposal to the HCDC.

Councillor Bill Obee suggested that the committee approach the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture for funding as well.

Election results in next week's edition

The Times will be a day late next week. In order to provide our readers with the results from next Monday's municipal elections, the newspaper will be distributed on Tuesday, November 14, rather than Monday. Look for all the results from area races on page two of next week's edition of The Times.

Canadian soldier remembers WWII

by Matthew Sitrler

Remembrance Day is a time for the community to pause and reflect upon what happened during the World Wars and those who lost their lives defending freedom. In keeping with this tradition, The Times looks at one soldier who contributed to Canada's war effort as a transport truck driver. His experiences become our own, and remain an integral part of Canada's war time legacy.

David Bathe today, safe at home in Haliburton.

Shortly thereafter, the soldier found himself across the English Channel in Holland. "The war had ended and we all had to sign up either to go and fight the Japanese or to stay in the occupational army," he explained. "Of course the ones who had signed to go to Japan didn't get there because of the atom bomb. I moved into the airport at Oldenburg in northwest Germany."

"Young people are more world-wise now than when we were young," he stated. "I was from Oshawa and I used to joke that I'd been as far east as Bowmanville, and as far west as Whitby."

When the war began in 1939, David was just entering high school. Graduating as a tool-design draughtsman, he had plans to continue working at the General Motors factory in Oshawa—but his plans, like those of many young men, changed. "I joined the army on St. Patrick's Day (March 17) 1944," he says proudly. Once established in Oldenburg at the airport, the young 19 year old transport driver had a succession of novel experiences.

After only a few weeks there, Bathe recalls watching as Field Marshall Montgomery's (the head of the British and Canadian Forces) airplane crashed into a field. "It had been raining, and we were watching it come in," says Bathe. "He had his own private pilot and there was a hedge maybe eight feet high along the northern edge of the airport. The aircraft was a few feet off of the ground. It cleared the hedge and then wham! Down it went." Bathe had his camera and took some photos of the event which he later sent to the War Museum in Ottawa.

General Volkes (Head of the forces at Oldenburg) was there and as he ran over to see what had happened, he slipped in the mud and fell," laughs Bathe. "We had to stay back while Montgomery was whisked away. Apparently he had broken his arm." That evening, the Field Marshall gave a speech to the forces, mentioning it was not proper to fraternize with the Germans — something Bathe, out of concern for his fellow human beings couldn't, help but do.

"I'd bring scraps to a group of German children after supper," he says. "They'd usually look through the garbage bins for food anyway, so I'd bring them food which was fresh."

Russian POW's provided entertainment at the German base. "You know how the Russians and the Ukrainians are great for singing?" asks Bathe. "I like music and played trombone in the regiment band in Oshawa. They'd sing all night long - from sundown to sunrise." The Russian soldiers were kept in a different compound.

On one of Bathe's transport service excursions, the soldiers went in to Holland to pick up barrels of gin from a brewery. "We were taking it out of this brewery in 90 gallon wooden barrels, back to the base" he begins. "Each of our trucks would only hold three of these barrels — that's as much as we could get on." The soldiers were moving the barrels with tank breakdowns onto the convoy of about 30 trucks. "One of the barrels broke," laughs Bathe. "We were along a canal and all the Dutch people came roarin' out - even a guy on a wheelchair who had a pot and what looked like a hanky — he was reaching down and soaking up the gin with it and squeezing it out into the pot."

Bathe spent the duration of his stay at Oldenburg picking up barrels of tomato juice in Hilversum, Holland, cans of Portuguese sardines and other large quantities of items. "There was always a cache of something in somebody's truck," he explains.

"Another trip we took was to a small town called Witten in Germany. There was a glass factory there and we were a couple of days loadin' up." Bathe drove planes of glass back to the airport barracks to fix windows which had been smashed during the war.

Upon return to Oshawa, Bathe resumed work surprised to couple who fish and were from small town. he said.

Bathe Europe in his Grand-Andrew reader, many books on World War Two and looks back on the war and his experiences realistically. "People thought differently when I was young," he says. "There was more patriotism. I saw the devastation."

Bathe hopes that young people remain aware of just how important the war was and what it's lasting legacy is. "I know my grandchildren do, because I have tapes of what went on and I've shown them. I would hope that the young people today realize they live in the best country in the world."

Local resident would like property clarification

by Matthew Sitrer

Minden Highway 35 property owner Garry Bloor is at the short end of his stake.

The landlord is upset and wants to receive clarification from the Ministry of Transportation (MTO) on exactly where his property line is. The recent widening of the highway south of town has necessitated the expropriation of some of Bloor's land, but he says there are divergent points of view about where the line should be.

"Their measurements (MTO's) are from the house," said Bloor. "To heck with the deck, I can use a rope ladder to get into the front door if I want to - they measure from the foundation out," he added sarcastically.

According to Bloor, the MTO states 21 feet from the foundation is where the property line is now. Bloor now has this line marked with white stakes. But initially, he says a representative from MTO came and haphazardly surveyed a property line that was further away. "Then hydro came along, paid for the trees, and the red stake is where the Hydro pole is going to go," he continues. "That's as far north that they can go between the spans."

Bloor says he had the understanding that the property line would have been farther away. "This is ridiculous because it gives me about a six foot front lawn," he says. "But they don't seem to care about that. They think I can take the deck off and have a bigger front lawn." All Bloor wants is for the MTO to visit his property and provide him with some badly-needed clarification. "I'm asking them to come over, even if they spray paint the front lawn or put a surveyor's stake in it and say 'This is the dividing line between the two properties'." Bloor called MP Chris Hodgson about the matter and says he was assured by him that the MTO would be notified of his concern.

In response, Bloor says his lawyer received a letter from the MTO that still did not address the property line specifically. "It still doesn't tell me anything," he said. "They are going to leave us out here naked with a six foot front lawn and I'm saying that's not right." Happy they are widening the road, Bloor states he didn't object when they had a necessity hearing. "They sent us a letter of expropriation - We didn't object - You have to take some front lawn, fine." Although Bloor has been offered money from MTO to put up a privacy fence, problems arise here also. "The privacy fence cannot be put on their right of way," he continues, "Now, who cuts their grass? Abutting owners do."

His concern involves other obvious issues: Parking space and property value. "I'm not being mean, but they haven't talked with me," he says. "I want the main person in North Bay to come down and see what we're up against."

Garry Bloor surveys his tiny front lawn. The Minden resident would like to speak directly to the Ministry of Transportation in order to resolve exactly where his property line is.

Big bucks for ducks

Feature artist David Alexander Risk, centre, congratulates high bidder John Middleton, right, along with Haliburton Minden Ducks Unlimited Committee Chair Jerry Walker. The evening was a great success, making more money than any other previous local DU event. The sold out event was held at the Wigamog Inn this year.

Record year for Ducks Unlimited dinner

A sold-out group of 125 people raised a record $22,459 for Ducks Unlimited Canada at the Haliburton-Minden Chapter's seventh annual fund-raising dinner and auction. The event, held at the Wigamog Inn on October 27, surpassed the 1999 event by about $8,000.

"We did exceptionally well," said Jerry Walker, Chairperson of the Haliburton-Minden Chapter of Ducks Unlimited. "The support of the community is the reason it did so well."

That community support included donations of live auction, silent auction and raffle prizes, as well as sponsorship of limited edition Ducks Unlimited items.

This year's feature artist for the local event was David Risk. He donated two original paintings, which he did specifically for the auction. They were a study of wood ducks. The two paintings were sold in the live auction as a pair and the selling price was $4,100, the most any item has drawn in the seven-year history of the DU dinner. John Middleton was the high bidder.

The Grand Slam Raffle featured the winner's choice of $1,000 cash or a colour television and satellite system. Bob Park was the winner and he chose the $1,000 cash prize. He donated $500 back to the cause. The second prize winner was Kim Emmerson, who took home the TV and satellite system.

Walker extended his appreciation to David Risk for his contribution to the success of the event. He also commended the members of the fund-raising committee for their hard work and dedication.

"It was another job well done," he said. "We achieved some amazing numbers."

Walker suggested patrons of the event should mark Friday, October 26, 2001 on their calendar. The Wigamog Inn has been booked for that date for the eighth annual Haliburton-Minden Ducks Unlimited Dinner and Auction.

"The support of the community is the reason it did so well."
— Chairman Jerry Walker

An act of Remembrance

Editorial

At this time of the year, our community and nation pay tribute to the many Canadians who lost their lives in defence of democratic ideals. While the memory of this sacrifice of these men and women should be something that is with us throughout the year, it is appropriate for all Canadians to join in the act of remembering on November 11. The poppy reminds us of the those who didn't return, but it should also remind us of those who served and came home, many, their lives changed forever by the experiences they endured.

There is perhaps no greater tribute to these veterans than for Canadians to honour the principles for which they fought. They put their lives on the line because they believed our system of democracy was worth defending. They believed that tyranny had no place on the world political stage and that citizens of the world should have the right to choose the government under which they live. They believed in basic human rights for all people, no matter their race, colour or creed.

Thanks to their sacrifice, Canadians, and countless other citizens of the world, live in a democratic society which, while not a perfect system, provides the best possible protection for all its citizens. It also asks very little in return: respect for the law; vigilance against the erosion of the rights of fellow citizens and participation in the political process.

It is interesting that every three years in this province, the annual Remembrance Day Ceremonies coincide with the municipal elections. This year, a federal election is not too far off as well. These coincidences should not go unnoticed. Surely one of the most significant reasons Canadians were willing to come to the defence of this nation, was to protect the right of each citizen to have a say in the way the country is governed. This month we have the chance not only to remember those who died and thank those who returned, but also to demonstrate, in a meaningful way, that we value the sacrifice they made on our behalf. The act of voting in this context, is more than making a political choice. It is a reaffirmation that those who came to the defence of the ideals we cherish, did not do so in vain.

Join the veterans at the Cairn this Saturday. Remember those who are no longer with us and thank someone who was fortunate enough to come back. Then demonstrate, in a meaningful way, that their sacrifice is still valued today.

Elect the best

Letters

Editor:

I am writing in response to the thoughtful and balanced letter from Mr. Braithwaite in the October 23 edition of The Times, regarding the distinction between "self-interest" and conflict of interest.

Clearly, all public officials are citizens with their own personal interests. However, we, the electorate, are afforded the democratic right to vote for the candidate whom we feel will exercise judgement with integrity and in the public interest.

It seems to me that the accusations against Councillor Wahlroth are unfair and misguided, and suggestive of sour grapes on the part of a vocal few. It is my understanding that the Wahlroth family have been property owners on Moore's Lake for many years, and it should offend no one that Councillor Wahlroth should seek a severance to give a lot to each of his three children.

It is a matter of public record that when Councillor Wahlroth's request for severance came before the Land Division Committee, he declared a conflict of interest and refrained from voting. This is a standard procedure in the conduct of public affairs and occurs quite frequently in government bodies everywhere. The remaining members of the Committee, exercising their discretion in whatever way they saw fit, as they were elected to do, voted to approve the severance.

I can see no ethical impropriety whatsoever in this process. Indeed it strikes me as very insulting to the other members of the Committee to suggest that they are incapable of exercising independent judgement in such circumstances.

We should be appreciative that persons with a strong connection to this region, and having proven record of responsible public service, should be offering their expertise to our township at this critical time of amalgamation.

Yes, Councillor Wahlroth has "self-interest", as do all public servants and indeed, all citizens. It would be naive to suggest otherwise. But so long as a politician acknowledges and declares a conflict when it arises in the course of his public duties, as Councillor Wahlroth did, he is beyond reproach.

To deny public officials their rights as citizens (including the right to apply for severance), as Mr. Braithwaite suggests, would very likely discourage qualified people from seeking public office, to everyone's detriment. Let us elect the best, most capable candidates in this election and stop focusing on irrelevant distractions.

The province has paid its share

Editor:

Re: Editorial October 30, "Welcome news"

In your editorial you suggested that there were a number of individuals on the Health Services Board or otherwise involved with health services wondering why funding has taken so long. In Canada, from coast to coast, health care funding has been problematic.

Only recently have the Provincial and Territorial governments been successful in having the Chretien government partially live up to its contractual obligations regarding health care funding in Canada. Although it has taken years to persuade the federal government to start honouring its commitment to health care, it has not yet brought it up to the contractual level.

The Liberal government failed to provide over 25 billion dollars to the Provinces and Territories, as agreed upon, in health care transfers. This has made it exceedingly difficult for the provincial governments to maintain the levels of spending increases. To date the federal government has agreed to reinstate 21 of the 25 billion dollars, which will help alleviate some of the problems. Hopefully the balance of their obligation will follow shortly.

It is worth noting that, although the federal government failed to fulfill its obligations, the spending on health care in the Province of Ontario has not been cut or reduced as a result. The health care budget has increased each year the present government has been in power. There has been no reduction in health care spending.

I hope that you will pass this on to those who were wondering.

Go Ryan Go...

Editor:

This young man, Ryan Sisson, has already raised over half the cost of going on this once in a lifetime trip to the Antarctic, thanks to the Rotary Club, private donations as well as Ryan's own savings. But time is ticking away and he still needs to raise another $5,000.00 to fulfill his dream.

I know Minden is a caring and giving community and I'd hate to see Ryan miss out on this opportunity. I don't know anyone more deserving of this trip.

I've seen the people of Minden pull together over some wonderful things and I'm asking the people once again to look into their hearts and their pockets to help Ryan out. If you'd like to donate to this cause, there is a donation box set up at Dollo's IGA. It would be nice to see other businesses do the same.

Thanks for giving and caring Minden.

Lindsay MacLean,
Minden.

Taking a chance on Chauncey

Ay, caramba, deadline looms and I cannot find the quote, but trust me on this one: once upon a time, Marshall MacLuhan, that Merlin of Canadian Consciousness, pronounced something to the effect that: A person's name is like a curse: a pronouncement that they will carry with them to the grave.

Okay?

That said, let us consider Bruce.

And Arnold. Not to mention Ralph. In the 1950's (trust me — I was there). The most popular boys names to tag a newborn lad with were John, Robert, James, Michael, David, Stephen, William, Richard, Thomas and Mark. By the 70's, the preferences had morphed to include Matthew, Brian, Christopher, Jeffrey and Daniel. And in the nether reaches of the century we had descended to Duane, Todd, Stuart and Brad.

But no one was going to bat for Lee Harvey. Or Oswald. A Louisianan no-account ex-Marine, born in 1939 and adorned serendipitously with all three monikers, managed to marry a passing acquaintance with a mail-order rifle and a Presidential cavalcade, into an historical rendezvous. And in that marriage, managed to insure that no sentient North American neo-parent would, for the foreseeable future, think of encumbering his or her offspring with the names Lee, Harvey, or Oswald.

You've got to be careful what you name your kid. It can come back to haunt you both. I'm sure that, prior to President Nixon's disastrous reign, Richard was considered an excellent male moniker. And have you noticed how few Canadian newborn boys carry the name Brian these days?

But that could change.

There was a time when Arnold was considered a wussy name.

A monosyllabic Austrian with polysyllabic muscles who answered to the name Herr Schwarzenegger changed all that. When I was a kid, the name 'Bruce' was sniggered at — thought to be just a tad 'fey'. Messrs Springsteen and Willis turned that around.

And then there's Ralph. What good words can you possibly say about the name Ralph? The most famous Ralph in the history of popular culture? Ralph Kramden, the sad sack, red-faced, overweight and usually idiotic bus driver portrayed by Jackie Gleason in The Honeymooners. Ralph — a name so sad that it has become a synonym for booze-induced nausea — "No kidding, Tiffany, after three of those Margueritas, I was ralping into the aspidistras."

Ralph. A tragically unfortunate name to lumber a child with. Until you think about it a bit. What about Ralph Lauren, the fashion thingy? And Ralph Fiennes, the Hollywood leading man? Has anyone noticed that there is a Ralph currently running for election to the Oval Office?

To wit, Ralph Nader, the world's most famous consumer advocate and perennial gadfly on the butt of the American body politic. And speaking of gadflies (or butts, your choice) — what about Canada's own Ralph Klein?

I think Ralph is coming back to claim its rightful place within the pantheon of righteous male names.

But then that's the thing about names. Even if you pick a good one, you can never be sure what the vagaries of history will do to it. Sometimes it doesn't take the weight of history. Sometimes a well-turned phrase will do the trick.

You don't hear the name Chauncey much anymore do you? The reason for that might be an exchange that occurred between U.S. President William Howard Taft and one Senator Chauncey Depew about 90 years ago. President Taft was a dirigible of a man, so huge in girth he had to have a bathtub specially made to accommodate his girth. Senator Depew on the other hand was a man with substantial gonads — so much so that he dared to twit the President about his size.

One time he had the temerity to ask the president if he 'was expecting a boy or a girl', and what he would name it. President Taft looked at the Senator and intoned, "If it's a boy, I'll call it John. If it's a girl, I'll call it Mary."

"But if, as I expect, it is just wind, I'll call it Chauncey."

Minden Sparks have fun

-submitted-

Girl Guides of Canada is a movement for girls led by women. It challenges girls to reach their potential and empowers them to give leadership and service as responsible citizens of the world.

The Second Minden Sparks includes 5 and 6 year-olds. The Sparks meets from 6:30 to 7:30 every Tuesday night at the Minden United Church. The girls engage in fun outings, make cool crafts, learn new songs, play games and the best of all is that we get to go camping without our parents.

Sparks are off to a great start this year. We have eleven girls registered that include: Alana Bannister, Brandy Swanton, Bridgette Fortner, Jessica Murdoch,

We'd like to give thanks to all the girls, parents and the community for their support. A special thanks to the Minden United Church for the use of the basement and to Brenda at Godfathers for the delicious pizza at our Halloween Party. Watch for us at the upcoming Remembrance Day Parade and the Santa Claus Parade. If you would like more information regarding Sparks or you would like to become one, please call Cheryl at 286-6364

October was a pleasant fall month, with sunny days and frosty mornings. Only unpleasant situation was Thanksgiving, some of every thing rain, snow, wind and cool temperatures. Poor timing perhaps. The snow started Saturday morning October 7, and lasted about three hours. It was quite local in a strip across the county from west to east. Compared with last October, we had only half the rainfall. The average temperature was one degree celsius warmer than last October. The best show of fall colours was during the Thanksgiving.

Peewee A Monarchs blank Newcastle 7-0

The Minden OMHA Peewees traveled to meet Newcastle for the second time this season on Sunday, October 29. The Monarchs held the edge in play for the first period which remained scoreless for the first seven minutes, until Mark Fisher scored his 15th goal of the season after taking a feed from Cody Mills.

The Monarchs took control of the game, scoring three unanswered goals in a middle frame that was dominated by the Monarchs. Newcastle exerted a lot more pressure in the third period and created a number of quality scoring chances of their own but they could not solve Minden netminder Mike Lennox. Minden scored another three goals in the third period and won the game in a convincing manner by a score of 7-0.

Justin McKelvey played a wonderful game on defense, as did Andrew Bull, who collected a nice assist with a well-aimed point blast. Defender Gavin Hicks picked up a couple of assists of his own and Mark Fisher added another goal, his second of the game, plus a couple of assists. David Toye turned in another strong two-way performance.

Sean Keaney notched a five-point night and Darren Brown contributed a hat trick. The other Minden goal scorers were Jon Petch and Travis Walker.

After the first 10 games of the season the Peewees have a solid 6-3-1 record and they are looking forward to building on this early success.

The Novice OMHA Monarchs played host to Beaverton Saturday afternoon and in spite of a strong effort by the Minden team, the visitors went home with a 6-3 win. Paddy Manuge played well in the Minden net, making some exceptional saves. The score did not accurately reflect the effort the Monarchs put into the game.

The passion is in the performance.

When you visit your Chrysler, Dodge, Jeep, Retailer your vehicle is with some of the most efficient technicians in the business. That's because, collectively, our technicians spend over 10,000 hours a year perfecting their skills with training specific to Chrysler, Dodge or Jeep vehicles while utilizing the latest diagnostic equipment. Atom A Monarchs win one, tie one in four games

Woodville 3, Minden 2

The OMHA Atom Monarchs travelled to Woodville for their first of four games on consecutive nights on Friday, October 27. It must have been a tough school week because the Monarchs did not have any energy at all for this game. Woodville took the early lead when an attacker scored unmolested from the slot. Woodville continued to exert pressure in the first period, outshooting the Monarchs by a margin of 10-3 but they could not add to their lead.

In fact Minden took the lead in the second period with goals by Brady Hicks, assisted by Matt Clements, and Matt Eno, assisted by Zach Pierson.

Woodville tied the game early in the third period. Minden goaltender Mike Lennox stopped a breakaway attempt and appeared to have smothered the rebound, but the official signaled a goal well after the whistle had stopped the play. The Minden fans and coaching staff were visibly and audibly unimpressed.

Woodville carried the play for much of the third period and took a 3-2 lead with two minutes left in the game when they rang one off the post and in on a breakaway.

Minden 3, Omemee 3

Minden took on Omemee the next day and the coaching staff was definitely looking for a stronger effort from its squad. The players definitely responded with a lot more intensity and a lot more effort in this game, which was their hardest hitting game of the season so far.

Matt Clements gave Minden the lead in the first period when his blast from the point deflected off an Omemee defender, past the goalie.

The teams traded goals in the second period, with each team scoring a couple. Sherri Walker scored on a nice individual effort, coming out from the left corner. She also assisted on Jordan Joanu's blazing slapshot goal that caught the low glove side corner.

Despite being heavily outshot throughout the game, Minden carried a 3-2 lead into the final frame. Todd Simms made a number of nice hits to keep the Omemee attackers honest and goaltender David Muir made 29 saves in the contest to keep this game close for the Monarchs despite Omemee's edge in shots. However, Omemee tied the game midway through the third period and the contest ended in a 3-3 draw.

Beaverton 5, Minden 4

On Sunday, October 29, the Monarchs limped out the gate with a low-energy first period effort. Beaverton capitalized on its opportunity and nailed a quick 2-0 lead.

Zach Pierson brought the Monarchs within one goal when he scored late in second period, with Eno assisting.

Early in the third period, Joanu tied the game after taking a feed from Kyle Fry. A minute later Pierson gave Minden a 3-2 lead with an unassisted effort and the Monarchs had completed the comeback. Goaltender David Muir was sharp as he protected the Minden lead through most of the third period.

With 4:18 left in the game, though, a Minden player was penalized for hitting from behind and the Monarchs had to play the remainder of the game shorthanded. Beaverton scored a minute into the powerplay, but Brady Hicks got that one back thirty seconds later, with Derek Nesbitt assisting. Beaverton scored twice more in the final two minutes to cement the victory, despite a very good effort from the Monarchs in the last two periods of the game.

Minden 2, Mariposa 0

The Monarchs delivered their best effort of the week on Monday night. Derek Carpenter was skating and hitting hard, and Billy Kulas used his size well to keep the Mariposa attackers at bay with a number of savvy defensive plays. Colin Callaghan continued his solid two-way play, offering timely hits and creating good scoring chances.

Eno scored 24 seconds into the contest to give Minden a quick 1-0 lead with a back-hand shot from the point. Nesbitt assisted. Brady Hicks added to the lead early in the second period with a fine individual effort of his own.

Mike Lennox was very cool in the net as he turned away all the Mariposa shots to earn the shutout.

The entire Minden team played a very solid game to close out the week on a very positive note.

Some Outdoors Cards due for renewal by the end of December

The Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR) reminds anglers and hunters to check the expiry date on their Outdoors Card. Cards which expire on December 31, 2000 need to be renewed.

MNR is automatically mailing application forms to more than 200,000 people whose cards are up for renewal. MNR encourages prompt renewal, especially for people wishing to hunt or fish at the beginning of January in areas where there are early seasons.

Anglers and hunters whose cards expire this year may renew their Outdoors Card and purchase three-year fishing and/or small game hunting licences at the same time.

The renewal package contains complete information on quick and convenient renewal options. Those options include renewing by telephone with a VISA or MasterCard at 1-800-288-1155. Renewal by telephone is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Renewals may also be done at 60 ServiceOntario Kiosks across Ontario. The quickest and most convenient way to renew is by telephone or kiosk.

Cardholders who have cards due to expire this year and who have not received a renewal package by late November should call toll-free at 1-800-387-7011.

Revenue from the sale of Outdoors Cards and licences goes to MNR's Fish and Wildlife Special Purpose Account, and is used solely to support fish and wildlife management activities in Ontario.

Minden Branch 636

November 11th 11:00 A.M.

Two Minute Wave of Silence

This tribute to our fellow Canadians who so generously sacrificed their lives for our freedom is again to be a part of the Remembrance we will celebrate. All across Canada in six different time zones Canadians will fall silent for two minutes to remember and to appreciate the lives of our comrades lost too early in world conflicts. Trains and motor vehicles will halt, workers will bow their heads, television and radio stations will go silent.

This silence will move across the country like a wave rolling into shore. We urge you to support this Two Minute Wave of Silence on November 11th in remembering the heroic men and women who went to war in the 20th Century.

Legion Branch 636 along with the Haliburton Highlands Silver Flute Band, the Minden Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies will be forming up at the Minden Fire Hall on November 11 at 10:15 A.M. We will parade off at 10:30 A.M. to the County Cairn. At 10:45 A.M. a Service of Remembrance will commence and we will observe the Two Minute Wave of Silence at 11:00 A.M.

WON'T YOU JOIN US AT THE CAIRN

Novice B Monarchs get on track with win over Ops

- Submitted -

The Novice B hockey team's season got off to a slow start, but after a couple of losses and a tie, the Monarchs got on the right track with a win over Ops in their fourth game.

Omemece 3, Minden 2

The first game of the season for Minden was in Omemece.

Logan Brown scored the first goal of the game as well as the first of the Minden goals to start off the Novice B season, the assist going to Alex Lopez.

Omemece popped in two goals before Jordan Dick scored, assisted by Shayne Lund, for Minden's final goal of the game. With only 48 seconds left in the third period, Tyler Murray of Omemece scored the winning goal for the home team. Minden got a great effort from Brady Kent and Colton Dick.

Minden 1, Manvers 1

With one game under their belts, the Monarchs Novice B team travelled to Manvers to play the second game of the season on October 15. The sniper for Minden was Daniel Langpohl, assisted by Shayne Lund.

The second period saw Manvers tie the game at one apiece, and that's how it ended. The goalies each got a workout that day and Minden's Colton Dick made some awesome saves.

Bobcaygeon 4, Minden 1

Minden fell short of a win with Bobcaygeon scoring two goals early in the first period.

Alex Lopez notched the only goal for Minden, with the assist going to Alex Treharne. Minden put forth a great effort, with Joey Findeis and Dylan Reynolds working hard on defense for the Monarchs.

Minden 4, Ops 1

The Novice B Monarchs had good reason to celebrate when they tangled with Ops at the Ops Arena, as the Monarchs recorded their first win of the season. The game remained scoreless until the second period, when Daniel Langpohl popped in the first goal for Minden, assisted by Jordan Dick. Less than two minutes later, Jordan Dick stepped in and scored, with assists going to Daniel Langpohl and JJ Kerr.

In the third, Minden kept the pressure on as Alex Lopez scored a nice one, assisted by Alex Treharne and Logan Brown.

Ops scored its first goal of the game early in the third period. With only 1:22 in the game, Daniel Langpohl scored the last goal of the game, assisted by Shayne Lund. Minden Defensemen Tanner Warburton and Dylan Reynolds helped keep the puck in the Ops end to ensure the first win for Minden.

Novice B Hockey schedule for November

November 11 Omemece at Minden 2:30 p.m.
November 12 Minden at Bobcaygeon 1:00 p.m.
November 18 Fenelon at Minden 2:30 p.m.
November 21 Haliburton at Minden 5:00 p.m.

Merger Update #3

Building a better bank for you.

To our valued customers:

I want to bring you up to date on our progress in building a better bank by integrating the retail operations of TD Bank and Canada Trust.

Since our integration was first announced in February, you've had an opportunity to experience first-hand that it's business as usual at your branch, through our telephone banking service and on the web. If anything, our customers are telling us that service has improved. But this isn't surprising considering we've extended the hours of operation in many TD Bank branches across the country. We've also frozen our service fees for all TD Bank and Canada Trust customers until at least next January; and our combined 3,000 ABMs are now accessible to all our customers with no Interac[®] withdrawal fees whatsoever.

Obviously, now as in the past, you can continue to use the TD Bank or Canada Trust branch you bank at now, and be looked after by the same people you're used to dealing with today. Or you can call on our existing telephone and web banking services to experience the same "best in class" service that may well have made you our customer in the first place. As I said, it's business as usual.

Looking To The Future

The process of consolidating our branches, telephone and web banking services is a complex one that thousands of our employees are working on, so that when the merger is completed by the end of next summer, the transition will be as seamless and painless as possible, and the result will be better banking for all our customers.

That said, our coming together will not be pain-free. Some of our branches will have to be consolidated, as will some of our products, in order to streamline our operations and simplify your banking experience. The product consolidation will take place in a series of four waves beginning in March of 2001 in the Atlantic Provinces. It will be completed on the weekends of March 24 in Atlantic Canada, May 19 in Alberta and British Columbia, June 23 in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Quebec. Consolidation in northwestern Ontario will also be completed on June 23, and in the remainder of Ontario on the weekend of August 4. The branch consolidation will be completed over the next 36 months in order to ensure the minimum disruption in service.

Our Commitment To You

Inevitably, there will be bumps along the way. We will make mistakes. But we will move to correct them quickly, completely – and cheerfully. We will also let you know well in advance of any changes that could affect you. If your branch location is going to move, we'll let you know – in writing – in clear language – at least four months beforehand.

You can also rest assured that we will not change the quality of your banking and our commitment to customer service – except to work constantly on improving them both.

Merger Benefits For You

All Canada Trust branches now offer 'paperless banking', and by the Fall of 2001, all our retail TD Canada Trust branches will as well. This means that deposit and withdrawal slips will be a thing of the past.

We also recently combined the management of our small business sales teams at both TD Bank and Canada Trust. As a result, the nation's burgeoning small business sector will enjoy a new level of service and a new kind of attitude from their bankers.

In October, our two mutual fund arms – TD Asset Management Inc. and CT Investment Management Group Inc. – are integrating their operations. This will give our customers access to what will be one of the largest and most diversified fund families in Canada.

Investing In Our Common Future

No matter what stage we're at with our integration, we will always continue to give back to the communities we serve – in every province and territory of Canada. This is why we are expanding the largest single cause that Canada Trust supports through its charitable contributions program – the Friends of the Environment Foundation which funds projects to preserve the health of our environment. Next year, following the conversion of TD Bank and Canada Trust retail operations into TD Canada Trust, all our customers will be able to support the Friends of the Environment Foundation.

Let me close by repeating that we will do our utmost to keep you up to date on developments as our two organizations become one. You can access our regular reports on the web, or pick one up in any of our branches. In addition, I will continue to report to you personally via updates such as this in Canada's newspapers. If you have any questions, or if you feel we are not meeting your expectations, I urge you to call our TD Canada Trust Customer Information Line at 1-888-572-8924.

Don Chapman wins 'Lane To Fame' honours

Lane to Fame

County Bowling Centre held its fourth annual 300/700 Club Roof Top Lane To Fame on Sunday, October 15, starting at 1 p.m.

The first place winner, with 180 pins over his average, was Don Chapman. Second place, with +56, was Doug Reinwald. Joan Rivard was third, with four plus 12 over her average.

Congratulations to Don Chapman, who was the only competitor to bowl a 302 for a single game. He was the only bowler to roll a 300 in the 300/700 Club.

Fred Cox Memorial Award

This year's winner of the Fred Cox Award was Michelle Moore, who bowled a plus 35 over her average in a single game.

This award is presented to a bowler who did not place in the top three for the Lane To Fame Tournament held at the County Bowling Centre.

Fred Cox started bowling at the County Bowling Centre in its first year of operation (1994). Fred died of cancer in 1999.

"Of all the tournaments which are running at the Centre, this tournament is a privilege to receive," Michelle Moore said.

Prepare to experience The Real Thing

by Matthew Sitrler

Do Haliburton audiences enjoy the real thing? Those who have cheated on their spouse know what I'm talking about and if they don't they will be in for one entertaining evening despite not understanding first-hand the complications of infidelity.

If it's anything like its promotion, the play The Real Thing, on stage November 16, 17 and 18 at the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion in Haliburton, will dish up the low-down in a professional and mature manner.

Director Darrel Dobson said he chose to direct the play because it is very entertaining. "The story moves along at a quick pace. The characters are likeable and memorable. I think people will really enjoy the show and remember it for a long time." The first act is set in London, England circa 1981, the second act in 1983. "The plot follows the life of a playwright who's personal life falls apart after which he works at picking it back up," says Director Darrell Dobson. A very funny drama about marriage and writing, The Real Thing is also about maintaining a real connection between people. Full of wit, passion, surprises, betrayal and wisdom, "People will delight at the humorous situations, sparkling dialogue and insight into relationships," he adds.

Written by Tom Stoppard, who is responsible for such classic plays as Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead and The Real Inspector Hound, the original West End production of The Real Thing won the Evening Standard Award for Best Play in 1987. In 1984, it won five Tony Awards, including Best Play, and was also honoured with the New York Drama Critics Circle Award, the Drama Desk Award and the Outer Critics Circle Award for Best Play. Audiences might better recognize Stoppard's name from his accomplishment as the author of the Academy Award winning movie Shakespeare in Love.

For a drama about marriage and writing, The Real Thing also involves themes which explore emotional fidelity and intellectual integrity, high art and pop culture, as well as truth in acting both on and off of the stage.

Dobson, who directed the sold-out production of Grease last April for the Redhawk Players, also played the character Gus in the Highlands Summer Festival's production of Twice Around the Park. He has been involved in over 50 productions as an actor and director. Over the last six years, students and plays under his direction have won 38 awards at drama festivals in Alberta and Ontario.

"It's a drama with good jokes," laughs Dobson. "Its major theme has to do with relationships and love. When it was originally in London's West End during the early-eighties, it won Best Play, and then when it was on Broadway the year after that with Jeremy Irons and Glen Close, it won Best Play on Broadway as well as Best Actor/Actress." This past summer, The Real Thing was revived on Broadway and again won Best Revival and Best Actor/Actress. "This production stars local actors Trish Wootton and Wayne Cooper in the lead roles.

The play centres on Henry, played by Cooper, a successful writer, attempting to balance his professional and personal life and finding the two blurring together more often than not. In shifting perspectives, couples in The Real Thing flounder and reform. Joy and passion are acutely countered by pain and

All candidates meeting held in Dorset Oct 27

by Matthew Sittler

Saturday October 28, candidates for the Townships of Sherborne, Stanhope et al took part in an important part of the election process: The All Candidates Debate. Held at the Dorset Community Centre, the candidates were given five minutes to present their platforms to the crowd of about 100. Once finished, electors were then allowed to question the different candidates on the issues.

Candidates for Reeve

Eleanor Harrison: Stanhope Township's current Reeve, Eleanor Harrison, began by explaining a bit about her background. A permanent resident of Stanhope for 34 years, Harrison said without her family's support, she would not have considered another run for office. "As a Reeve, you are committed to the well-being of a whole community," she said. "And I believe this new community will require a great deal of time."

By the end of the current term of office, Harrison will have completed 12 years of municipal government experience. "Nine of those years were spent at both County and local levels," she said. Harrison asked those who had gathered not to overlook the County as a whole, when thinking about the next three years, and what this election will mean to it. "If there is one place where we need continuity and experience, it will be at the County level," she said. "With a budget of $13 million, they (County) will be responsible for police, ambulance, social services, county roads and 9-1-1 services. My experience at the County has been wide and varied," she continued. "I've been on the Roads Committee, Chaired the Social Services Committee, on the Family Services Committee, at the moment I'm on the County Library Committee and I belong also to the Personnel and Financial Correspondence Committees."

Harrison cited the amalgamation of the existing services currently in operation as one of "many challenges," which lie ahead. Her Transition Board experience has been a pleasure, she noted. "Our amalgamation has proceeded fairly smoothly — we were often more advanced than the other amalgamations who chose to have independent chairs."

The transition will be on-going for the next three years, she continued. "We will be consolidating essential services, fire departments, bylaws and policies, integrating staff of all departments, and making sure the concerns of all areas within the municipality are brought to the table."

Harrison stressed she felt her experience would be most beneficial when dealing with these issues. Likening the process to a marriage, she said, "I was there for the courtship — sometimes difficult. I was there for the engagement — a few rough spots but we managed. I'd like to be there for the marriage on January 1, 2001."

Urging County Council to take more prominent roles regarding waste management and airport development so that all municipalities could operate more efficiently, were two of her suggestions. As well, economic development is a must for the new municipality, she declared. "We must provide clean, environmentally friendly industry in order to provide job markets for our youth," she said.

"Water quality — I fully support what Sherborne already has already done in signing a contract for septic system inspections. During the next three year term, the Reeve's position will be more full-time than ever before."

Harrison said she does not feel the position is for anyone with little or no practical experience. "I feel I've been fair in the past and I will be fair in the future," she said. "Never in the history of either Stanhope or Sherborne et al has there been such a great need for leadership on council."

Caye Killaby: After a brief introduction, Killaby, a part-time Lake St. Nora resident since the 70's and permanent resident since 1990, announced she had been involved in municipal politics for her whole adult life. Drawing from her experience as councillor of a ward of 45,000 people in Mississauga, Killaby said she knew she could serve as Reeve for the next three years. "I have been asked: 'Why go for the top job so soon?' With my experience and background, that's where I can have the most effective impact for you (the voter) during the next three years."

The main issue to be dealt with is the amalgamation of the townships, she said. "It has to be done fairly and effectively — it will require that some tough decisions be made." Describing herself as a 'Tough Ol' Girl', she felt the question of personal vision was another concern.

"We used to ask: 'Where is this town headed?', The question of population growth and development (more on page 20) deception. "You want to give it time," says Wootton as, Annie, to Henry, her married lover. "Time to go wrong, change, spoil. Then you know it wasn't the real thing." Also in the cast are Elke Zilla and Terry Anderson and students Carrie Heyes and Trevor Ottley. Dobson has a role as the actor Billy Liberally punctuated with Stoppard's humorous and witty dialogue, the play is a co-production of the Highlands Little Theatre and the HHSS's Redhawk Theatre Company.

"The set has been designed and decorated by local artist and art teacher Rose Pearson who did the same marvellous work in Grease last April and in Camarata this past summer. She is creating four large paintings especially for this production, and each painting is appropriate for the mood and characters in that particular house," says Dobson.

"Rehearsals have come along very well," he adds. "We are creating a rotating set piece that I don't think has been seen in Haliburton before. There are five different interior scenes for the play and since we can't fly in backdrops, we have created an inventive set and will have a large speedy crew for each change."

"There is some mature content, so it's not really a show for kids," says Dobson. "It's a very entertaining couple of hours, quite enjoyable, fun and light as well." Ultimately a well-executed drama, the play will provide ample entertainment for those who accept no substitute - Just don't leave your wife at home.

Tickets are $10.00 and are available at Cranberry Cottage (457-1844) in Haliburton and The Storeroom (286-1424) in Minden.

Three's company

Terry Anderson, Wayne Cooper and Elke Zilla practice a scene in The Real Thing. The play was written by Tom Stoppard, who wrote the screenplay for the popular film Shakespeare in Love. The play begins on November 16 and runs to November 18 at the Northern Lights Pavilion at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Tickets for the production are $10.

Rail Trail clean-up day a big success

by Rachel Gillooly

The Lochlin Community Centre was action central on Saturday, October 28 when the Rail Trail Clean-Up Day brought more than 20 volunteers of all ages together for a little fresh air and a lot of hard work.

Nine 'teams' were organized and set out by foot, with trailer and radio backup, to cover Haliburton County's 33 kilometres of Rail Trail. And what a selection of junk was collected -- lots of cardboard, tin, plastic and paper products, Christmas trees, pop, beer and liquor bottles - even a bed! Trucks and cranes had been used several days prior to Saturday's Rail Trail Clean-Up Day to remove the refrigerators, cars, tires and discarded culverts that littered sections of the Rail Trail. Saturday's collected garbage was taken by flat-bed trailer to the dump following the event.

Rail Trail Clean-Up Day was co-organized by the Haliburton Highlands Trials and Tours Network and Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, with a grant from the Shell Environmental Fund. Schools, community associations and environmental groups have used the grants, of up to $5,000 per project, to improve and protect the environment.

Volunteers enjoyed a delicious barbecue on returning to the Lochlin Community Centre, with culinary expertise provided by Don Gage of Willow Beach Cottages.

During the week of October 30, seeding and planting of shrubs to prevent further erosion along washed-out areas of the Rail Trail was expected to be completed. Funding for this endeavour has been provided to the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

The Haliburton Highlands Trials and Tours Network and Haliburton County Snowmobile Association would like to extend a big thank you to all the volunteers who made this effort such a success.

TONS OF TRASH: About 20 volunteers spent Saturday, October 28 picking up garbage along the 33 kilometres of Rail Trail in Haliburton County. All forms of trash was picked up and taken to the landfill site, including the assortment above. Skeletons of old cars, discarded refrigerators and other litter was cleaned up.

Stanhope meeting a forum for discussion

must take on a rational point of view with an eye for the future," she said, adding, "I'm not talking about an airy-fairy future."

New residents will need advanced social services and health facilities, she continued. "I have been asked whether I am for development or whether I wish to keep the community the way it is. Frankly, these are not options that we will face. According to studies done at the County level, combined with what we can see for our own eyes, there will be some growth over the next few years in terms of tourism."

Neither Dorset nor Oxtongue Lake must be forgotten during the amalgamation, she said. "We all recognize that tourism is a part of this area - whether cottagers, snowmobilers, hunters, anglers and increasingly hunters and boaters, they come here for the same reasons - for the natural beauty and the clean environment," she said.

Killaby told the meeting that access to trails and lakes must be maintained. "I promise to represent you for the next few years. Please give me your support and trust me with your vote," she concluded.

Cheryl Mansell: Referring to surgery which damaged her vocal cords as a child, Cheryl Mansell began her speech on a humorous note. "My lack of volume has never prevented me from getting my point of view across," she began. "My colleagues and I share the same concerns for the new amalgamated township. But first, I would like to address three concerns that have been raised about myself as a candidate; the first is my residency."

"My family has a home in Richmond Hill and a year-round cottage in Stanhope. In fact, I live approximately ten minutes away from MP Chris Hodgson." The second concern concerned her commitment to the job. "My flexible part-time job allows me the freedom to commit myself to being Reeve," she said. "Commuting is a part of every day life, and I'm just two hours away and always available by phone or fax."

"The third concern is my lack of municipal experience. I'm the first to admit, that I do not have political experience, however, I have many years of extensive experience dealing with municipal and governmental agencies - this gives me an understanding of the workings of municipal government - something we as taxpayers, should expect from our elected representatives."

"One of the key elements of a successful amalgamation is the ability to work effectively in a team environment," she noted. "I would be able to represent residents of the amalgamated townships with a fresh

"Water quality: I support a mandatory septic inspection program. We must take action to clean up our water. Accessibility: Council does not require a formal council chamber in order to hold its meetings. I support council meetings revolving between Dorset and Stanhope in order that all residents be able to participate in council meetings."

She also supported the notion of a Township website that included council minutes, a calendar of events section and links to the business community and cottage associations. "Everyone should have access to what's happening within the township," she said.

On the issue of Waste Management, Mansell said the answer resides in a County-wide plan. "A developed plan for the disposal of all types of waste including toxic waste," she said. "In the short term, we should aggressively encourage recycling, reusing and reducing."

"It is imperative that the township create a five-year plan respecting the maintenance and repair of all of its facilities, including roads, buildings vehicles, etc..." she said. On the airport issue she spelled out her view. "Am I in favour of expanding the airport?" she asked rhetorically. "When the realistic fee structure has been established, I would definitely support the enhancement of the airport — if warranted," she said. "Until such a time, I am not in favour of expanding the airport which has an operating deficit this year of approximately $40,000."

"You can talk about the airport, and you can talk about taxes, you can talk, talk, talk... But what we need is a pro-active municipal team to act and deliver for you," she said.

Councillor Candidates Ward 1

Kerry Locke: The Amalgamation process continued to be a major theme of the candidates' speeches. Sherborne Councillor Kerry Locke began by speaking about her involvement in the transition board process, saying that a lot has already been accomplished. "We have an issue carrying over from our own township (Sherborne). The review of our official plan will take place in 2001," she said.

Councillor Candidates Ward 2

Ann Barker: Stanhope Councillor Ann Barker said that although she is known as a very outspoken person, she remains fair. Citing her past accomplishments, which included being Stanhope's Citizen of the Year in 1981, and the recent lifetime achievement award given to her by the Fire Marshall's office as examples, Barker pointed out she has been on council for 14 years. "Three of these years as Deputy Reeve and three on County Council," she said. "I am dedicated to what I do."

Her Transition Board and Property Standards Committee experience were listed by Barker, as well as fund-raising efforts she has been involved with over the past 26 years, as examples of that commitment. It is important, said Barker, that the Transition Board process continue to run as smoothly as it has. "The issues of today will be there tomorrow," she said. "I'm talking about waste management and roads, especially with the amalgamation of the new township. How is it going to run? Hopefully very smoothly." Decisions that will have to be made over the next few years will affect not only council, but the Townships as one community, she continued. "If you look at Dysart, they have many communities, but each township keeps its own individuality, as we will." Keeping each township's heritage was of utmost importance to her, she said.

"If I am elected to council, I am not going to make any promises I cannot keep," she said. "The one promise I will make, is that I will do my very best to do the right job." Working on Council is not an 'I-me' position, it is a team position, she commented. "I'm working for the betterment of our community - And we don't always agree with each other's decisions that get made on council," she said. "I'm hoping that in the next three years we can become one very strong community and I ask for your support on November 13."

Cathy Carroll: The Candidate for Councillor re-visited the days of Haliburton past with illustrations from her family's history in the Highlands. Tying these images with the present, Carroll concluded that today's reality had irrevocably changed. "We have whole new challenges in front of us," she said.

"My husband and I have lived in Stanhope for the past 20 years. Challenges we are going to face over the next few years involve the transition of six townships into one. I propose that a number of meetings throughout the year be located throughout the township, not just staying in Stanhope." It's important that people who live in this area still feel they are part of the game, she continued. "It's a long way to Stanhope."

Carroll also felt that a satellite office in Dorset was a good idea. "I've heard many concerns from businessmen. 'Would they have to drive all the way down to Stanhope to get a building permit?' I don't think we should do anything that would make local businessmen have more difficulties than they already have."

Carroll noted that the number one industry in the area was tourism. "I propose a first class website be made." She also volunteered that a business ambassador's program would be an excellent way to improve the business industry. "They would work together to improve existing businesses and to help promote new ones," she said. "We could do this over and above what is being done at the county level - Because our neighbourhood is not Minden, it's not Haliburton, we are more of a rural neighbourhood and we should pick things that would be specifically applicable to keep the nature of our neighbourhood as it is now." If given the chance, she said she would work very hard

County land ambulance service launched

Haliburton County land ambulance services are open for business.

Local officials cut the ribbon to mark the opening of the County-operated land ambulance services on November first.

On hand to celebrate the transition of service to the county was Ambulance Service Manager Bob English, Rob Acheson, the Assistant Regional Manager — Ministry of Health, MPP Chris Hodgson, Jim McMahon and Don Shortreed of the County Emergency Services Committee.

The Ambulance Service certification process has been an extensive one for local land ambulance representatives.

At the October 25 Haliburton County Council meeting, Bob English reported on the process to council members.

While this segment of the process is complete, there is work to do to prepare for a review of the local services.

"The next step in the process is six months down the road when we will have to go through a full-service review to make sure our operations do meet the regulations," said English.

Breakfast meeting

Staff and Volunteers of the Archie Stouffer Elementary School Breakfast Club took a break from the most important meal of the day to pose for a photograph. The club meets to help provide nutritious breakfasts for students at the Minden school.

ASES Breakfast club has helped hundreds of students

The Archie Stouffer Elementary School has, once again, implemented a Breakfast Club program which is held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings.

Students are treated to such delights as scrambled eggs and toast, waffles and syrup or bagels and cream cheese, not to mention the fresh baked muffins, home-baked banana bread and fresh fruit. The Breakfast Club has been in operation since 1997 and receives as many as 112 children in one sitting. Children who, might not receive a hot, nutritious breakfast.

The non-profit Club is solely run by volunteers, including student volunteers, and is overseen by the School Council. Each volunteer contributes at least an hour per week at the school and also performs such duties as making delicious banana bread, slicing bagels, delivering food etc. Carol Charlebois, Co-ordinator, said funding for the program is received in part, from the Canadian Living Foundation "Breakfast for Learning," but they rely on private and corporate donations to offset the program. Anyone wishing to make a monetary donation to this very worthy cause, may do so at either the CIBC or TD bank, care of the Breakfast Club. Anyone wishing to become a valued volunteer (seniors welcome) or wishing to make a food donation, please contact the school.

Area students test scores higher than last year

-submitted-

Students can be proud of results that show improvements in their overall scores on standardized tests given to grade three and grade six students. While the results are still being analyzed, initial evaluations indicate that results show improvement over last year's scores.

"Early indications point to significant improvements, particularly in grade six, says Dale Robinson, superintendent of curriculum. "We worked very hard on a plan to help students achieve even better scores than last year, and it looks like we may have succeeded. There's always more work to do, but these seem to be promising results."

The tests are conducted by the province's Education Quality and Accountability Office (EQAO), which released provincial results last week. The tests were given to all grade three and grade six students in May, and are intended to evaluate students' abilities in math, reading and writing.

Results were collected and organized by the EQAO, which forwarded preliminary information to school boards in October. Breakdowns will be released to school boards in the coming weeks. Further information on the EQAO is available at www.eqao.com

The board will release further information as its analysis is completed.

by Matthew Sitrer

Honoured for their undying voluntary efforts, two Minden couples were recently awarded with certificates of appreciation for their contributions to Mindens Museum Committee. The certificates recognize the many years of outstanding volunteer contributions, dedication and enthusiasm shown and provided by Ken and Jeanne Bowron and Freda and John Hulbig. "It's the people behind the committees that make it happen," said Chair of the Museum Committee Larry Hodgson, who added that there is still great need for younger people to get involved.

Scary night for young girl struck by car on Hallowe'en

The following report was issued by the Haliburton Highlands Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Impaired driver charged in Haliburton

On October 28, at 11:10 pm, officers from the OPP investigated an incident on Maple street in the village of Haliburton. While on patrol, officers noticed a vehicle travelling westbound without its headlights on, towards them on Maple street. The vehicle was pulled over and as a result of the investigation, the male driver David Laporte age 20 years, of Eldon road in Oakwood, was arrested and charged with: Impaired Operation of a motor vehicle over 80 mgs of alcohol. He will appear in Minden Court on December 6, 2000.

Driver charged in Haliburton.

Police investigated an incident on Maple street in the Village of Haliburton at 7:30 pm on October 29. After noticing a car fishtailing all over the road, a vehicle was stopped on Maple street. Further to the investigation, the male driver Andre Magnan, age 34 years, from Orillia, was arrested and charged with having a blood alcohol level over the limit. He will appear in court on December 6.

Break and enter at construction site

The OPP investigated a break-in at a construction site located on County road 507 four south of Haliburton. The investigation revealed that a quantity of Western Cedar Lumber had been stolen sometime between October 18 and 25. It is believed that suspects used a truck with a 16" wheelbase. Stolen from the location were the following items: 420 linear feet 1" by 6" clear cedar boards two 2"x12" 16' beams, two 2"x12" 10' beams, four 2"x12" 12' beams, four 2"x10" 14' beams, three 2"x10" 12' beams, one 2"x10" 10' beam, 360 linear feet 2"x6" boards, 34 7/16" roof sheeting with orange edges, and one 5"x10 and a half foot beam.

Beams may be stamped with "Beaver Canoe"

Total value approximately $10,000. Anyone with information involving this incident is asked to please contact Haliburton OPP at 705-286-1431 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-563-9847

Break and enter

The OPP investigated a theft from a residence located on Sharon Lake Road in Minden Township. The owner advised that a red plastic can with heating oil in it and an aluminum ladder had been taken from an unlocked shed sometime during the afternoon. The incident was investigated October 27.

On October 29, the OPP investigated a break and enter at the Towerhill Marine store located on Highway 35 in Dorset. The investigation revealed that between the hours of 1 and 4:50 am, suspects used a pitchfork to break the front door window. They entered the store and stole the following items, a NEC lap top computer, approximately 750 lottery tickets, 6six S/V Jackets (two ladies' leather), 16 packs of DuMaurier, two pairs of Polaris socks, pop and food. The suspects also left pop cans outside of the store.

Arrest for pot

The OPP's Street Crime Unit arrested a 21 year-old man at Skyline Park in Haliburton for possession of a large quantity of marijuana. As a result of the arrest, police recovered marijuana with an estimated value of $3,000. Steven Strong, 21, of West Guilford has been charged with possession of a controlled substance for the purpose of trafficking and will appear in Minden court on December 6.

Nine year-old struck in Haliburton

Around 6:30 pm on Halloween night, the OPP investigated a motor vehicle collision which occurred on Highway 121 north of Curry Motors in Haliburton. The investigation revealed that a vehicle struck a 9 year-old Haliburton girl who was out trick or treating. At the time of the collision, the girl was in the center of the road. The driver, a male aged 52 years from Haliburton, who had been drinking was questioned by police. Further to the investigation, the driver was issued a 12 hour driver's licence suspension and was also charged with Drive with liquor readily available contrary to the Liquor licence act. The girl was treated and released with minor injuries from Haliburton Hospital.

Break and enters across Haliburton County

Mischief in Dorset

The OPP investigated a mischief incident at the Fiery Grill Restaurant located on Main Street in Dorset. The investigation revealed that the business was vandalized when suspects, believed to be three females in dark clothing threw blue and yellow paint all over the outside of the building. The investigation of the October 30 incident is continuing.

More break, enters and thefts

On October 30, the OPP investigated a break, and enter located on County Road 503 in Glamorgan Township. The investigation revealed that the Terry Joseph Shop had been broken into for the second time in two weeks. Stolen from the shop was a black and white tv.

On Halloween night, the OPP investigated a break and enter at a gas station located on County Road 121 in Haliburton. The investigation revealed that the gas bar was entered and the cash float tray containing $200 was taken. The owner advised that the alarm company had contacted them at approximately 9:40 pm at which time they went to the gas bar and found it had been broken into.

Halloween egg tossing

Over all, October 31 was fairly uneventful. Officers from the Haliburton Highlands OPP investigated several reported minor incidents involving eggs. Youths wearing camouflage clothing and carrying eggs were stopped and warned by OPP on Highland Street in Haliburton. Eggs were thrown at Archie Stouffer School in Minden.

Break and enter in Minden Township

The OPP investigated a break and enter at a cottage under construction on Blairhampton Road, in Minden Township. The investigation revealed that the incident had occurred sometime between October 21-28, 2000. Stolen from the location were the following items: 250 gallons of Silken stain natural, 10 25 gallon pails, 26" electric fan white, four black metal outside lantern fixtures, one air extractor unit approximately 24" square. Total value approx. $7,000.00. Anyone with any information involving this incident is asked to please contact Haliburton Highlands OPP at 705-286-1431 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-563-8477.

On October 28, the OPP investigated a second attempted break and enter at Sunny's Variety Store located on Minden's Main street. At approximately 1:10 a.m., a witness observed two male suspects in front of the store attempting to remove a piece of cardboard from the window. The witness chased the suspects away from the location. The suspects were described as: Male age 16-17 years 5'8", brown hair, wearing a red t-shirt, and another male, age 16-17 years, 5'4" blonde hair, wearing a black jacket. This incident may relate to the attempted break and enter which took place at this location on October 25 at approximately 1:30 a.m. Two at getting this job done.

Tom Gardner: Gardner congratulated the other candidates for running, and began his speech with a little personal history. A resident of Hall's Lake for 10 years, Gardner said his family has had a long history in Stanhope — some of his ancestors were among early pioneers that had settled there. "Obviously the area is very near and dear to my heart," he continued.

"Over the years I have been very active in volunteer work, especially the Lions Club in Minden. Over the years, I have worked very hard to raise money for many community projects."

Gardner has also served as Vice President and President of the Hall's and Hawk Lake Property Owners Association and has been a volunteer driver for the Canadian Cancer Society.

"I've served on the Council at Stanhope for the past three years," he said. "In that time, I feel we have accomplished quite a bit." Gardner cited council's proven ability to attract clean industry/business to the area, such as the airport and the new Heat Line Corporation. "Hopefully, these are signs of things to come," he said. "I've voted for the resurfacing of Buckslide Road," he added. "I've worked hard on Council to keep taxes down in the face of downloading and also cuts in Provincial funding."

Over the past three years, Gardner has served on the Board of Management Committee, Waste Management Committee and the Recreation Committee. "During the past year, I've also been a member of the Transition Board and many of the sub-committees."

Amalgamation: there is still an awful lot to be done he said. "We must continue to find cost-savings while maintaining or improving levels of service." On waste-management, he had his mind made up. "Let's see that responsibility move to the County level," he said.

Gardner concluded his speech saying he hoped to see council's relationship with property owners associations continue. "It's very important to keep that going." Gardner also supports a satellite office being maintained in Dorset. "The by-law officer needs an office to work out of when he's around here, and also local residents would have an area to get information."

Jim Hicks: "For some of us, this has been a very long campaign," began Hicks. "Tonight I ask you think about two factors when you cast your vote on November 13."

The first of these is experience. "I have been on Stanhope Council for nine years, I've served on the Board of Management as Chair for eight years, on the Recreation Committee for two terms and the Fun Day and Stanhope Roads Committees." Hicks also sits on the Board of Directors of Staunworth Committee for Non-Profit Housing among others. "Involvement in this wide range of committees and boards puts one in contact with many people," said Hicks. "Mainly other politicians, staff, business owners and employees, educators, church leaders and perhaps most importantly, the many community volunteers who serve so faithfully their many worthwhile projects throughout the County."

"These contacts provide me with the pulse of our community," he said. "Knowing how this all works in Haliburton allows me to serve you better. I know who to go to and who to talk to when questions arise, or when action is needed."

The second factor Hicks asked the audience to consider was availability. "I'm retired. I have no other employment," he stated. "My health is good, my home here is our permanent residence — our only residence." The job of councillor means you must be available all the time, he continued. "I have this proven record of good service to all my constituents,

I ask that you remember this service when you cast your vote November 13."

Councillor Candidates for Ward 3

Garry Sanderson: Sherborne Councillor Gary Sanderson promised he was willing and able to represent his constituents with an even greater enthusiasm and ambition than the last time. This is because he said, of what he and council collectively were able to accomplish as a team during the last three years.

"Tonight is report card time," he said. "I believe (more on page 29)

New council will face new challenges that by your support and vote during the last election, that I was able to make a positive contribution on your behalf in the management of your tax dollars with my business-like, common sense approach." In 1996 before the election, Sherborne Townships total reserves were at $362,000. Our equipment was older and repairs were costly. Our tax arrears were too high," he continued.

"The five to ten year plan developed in the past had not been followed." Improving the total picture while remaining financially responsible, Sanderson said the current council made the needed changes and improvements. "By the end of 1999, our total reserves were at $881,000 - an increase of over 243 per cent. Our debt is zero. We developed better, faster and more reliable service for you the tax payer."

Saying you should walk a mile one step at a time, Sanderson promised his goal and objectives would remain the same this time around. "I will make sure that our tax dollars are spent wisely and appropriately, therefore receiving the best value for our hard earned money."

If elected, Sanderson said it would afford him the ability to provide his increased experience and knowledge to serve their interests. "Together we can solve the challenges of the future," he concluded.

Don Shortreed: The current Sherborne Reeve Don Shortreed also mentioned his local history, recalling accomplishments of council. Jobs were top of his concerns. "The work's here. All we have to do is use some initiative," he said.

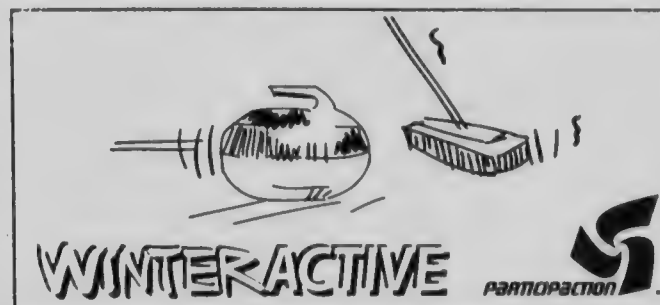

"The transition is the biggest thing we face today. It has to go smoothly, and it will only run smoothly if we work together." Shortreed said cost savings mentioned by Sanderson were all true. "In the past, things were just a shambles — but this has been fixed," he continued. "It isn't just the Councillors who are responsible for the way it is today. If you haven't got the administration to help you along, then you're just not going to make it."

Senior government has to take over waste management said Shortreed. "We have to have 911 as well."

"The other thing we have to do is get together with our fire departments," he said. "They are volunteers and they need our support."

If elected, Shortreed promised a satellite office in Dorset. "So that they can serve local people, even if I have to open it in my own home."

The play's the thing for HHSS students at Stratford

Jennifer Minto - Student Intern

"To be, or not to be..." That was the question as local HHSS students travelled to Stratford, Ontario to take in three plays.

Hamlet starred Paul Gross, formerly a television actor on the series Due South. Most students had been on the trip with teacher, Darrell Dobson, before but were still amazed at the amount of talent in theatre today and were excited to be able to attend once again. Not to say that the newcomers were not enthralled as well as it was a great experience.

Peering through the doors, a glimpse of the stage is caught. With the dimming of the lights and the music that begins in the background, a slight move to the edge of the seat occurs.

These are all things that are induced by the realm of the theatre. Receiving your ticket, waiting in the line and then being seated are all things that pass by without notice. It is the beginning to end that is never forgotten.

Stratford is an amazing place to just stroll down the streets to catch a glimpse of the people that travel there, just to view a famous play. Merchants rant about the meandering people, roaming the streets, waiting for the play to start. Doors open. Ticket takers are stormed by those that can't wait to be seated, handed their programs and grounded until the intermission. Refreshment stands are ready and eager to serve those with dry throats and aching coughs that they are sure must be annoying to the rest of the crowd.

Three plays were taken in by the students. The first being the musical "Fiddler on the Roof", starring Brent Carver as Tevye, a poor Jewish man with five daughters during the Russian Revolution.

The second was, "The Diary of Anne Frank" that portrayed the story of a young Jewish girl, forced to hide with her family from German soldiers during the World War II.

To keep occupied, she keeps a diary while in hiding. Her notes were found after her death.

Lastly, the renowned Hamlet, starring Paul Gross. This play is widely known for its tragic end which was wonderfully portrayed by the actors involved.

The three plays were spectacles, each having its own set and persona. All were great to watch ranging from edge of your seat suspense to tragic endings.

At next year's Stratford Festival Henry Fifth might be on the bill, which excited the students as they travelled back to their home of the Northern Lights Performing Arts Pavilion.

Taking in the theatre is a breathtaking experience. Seeing the actors on stage knowing that they have been acting professionally for some time, as they run across the stage, dancing and singing. If anything, everyone should go and see a local play. It will allow you to see a different side of life through the magic of acting and stage.

A popular spot on Hallowe'en

What beautiful weather we have been experiencing lately: cool, frosty mornings, which carry into warm sunny afternoons. Wonderful weather for November. We might as well enjoy it while it lasts.

The last few days have been quite enjoyable. The ladies of the Halliburton Legion hosted our Birthday Tea, which was held on October 26. It was a lovely Tea and we thank our hosts for taking time to be with us. The following afternoon the Grandfathers were here to entertain us at our Happy Hour. Great music and great company: thanks guys.

Over the weekend a group of residents were very busy bagging the candy for Hallowe'en. Peggy Packer, Daisy Bates Edna Scott, Ruby Williams and Margaret Bessie were involved. It was a job well done ladies. Also on the weekend we were pleased to have Pastor Dan Millard join us for Chapel. Our thanks to him. Many of us look forward to our Sunday Chapel and we appreciate those clergy who are able to be with us. We understand that Rev. Burgess is under the weather and we wish him better health and look forward to seeing him once again on his visitations.

During the week we are pleased to have visits from our canine friends, it's good of their owners to share these wonderful animals with us. We also participate in Keep Fit programs on a regular basis and for those of us who need it, Restorative Care. Gord Kennedy was here on Monday, October 30. He entertained us beautifully on piano with his renditions of old time dance music. A Memorial Service for Beatrice Herlihey was held Tuesday morning at Chapel. Barbara Trocewicz led us as we paid our respects.

Hallowe'en Night: what a busy evening we had! So many children popping in for their candy. They were a delight to see with all kinds of costumes, and they just kept coming and coming. Rumour has it that there were over 250 kiddies. We're sorry to say we ran out of candy, although we thought we packed enough. We'll have more ready next year! Anyway our thanks to all the children who paid us a visit. We do so look forward to this every year. Among the visitors was Nancy (activity staff) with her granddaughter, Jordyn. We hope we spelled her name right. She's a lovely little girl.

Our card group met on Wednesday this week, Roy Nicholls partnered with Marjorie Watt and Corinne with partner Daisy Bates. Roy reported that this week he and Marjorie lost two games. That evening we were pleased to have the Norland Hillbillies with us at our Pub Night. Good people, good music, good times, thanks Hillbillies.

Before we forget we must thank Jenni Sisson for bringing her brand new son in for us to see. What a beautiful little boy he is, absolutely gorgeous. We do enjoy babies!

As we check our calendar we noticed that today there is to be a Peanut Butter Lovers Tea. It sounds interesting doesn't it? All we know is that Edna Scott is busy baking and we can smell peanut butter. Must tell you about this next week.

We have a new resident. A warm welcome to Loretta Nesbitt who has joined us recently. We also say goodbye to Taylor Wilkins who has moved to Haliburton. We hope everyone is happy in their new homes.

Before we sign off we want to share this special poem with you. Vera Stevens, one of our residents, wrote it. We know you will appreciate it just as we did.

*The battle scarred countryside
Now peaceful and still
With only a flag flying
Silently on a hill
Guarding little white crosses
Neatly arranged in a row
Barely visible neath
The fresh fallen snow
An eerie sad silence
Which hangs all around
Reflects the brave spirit
Of the men underground
Once a year they're remembered
For great bravery and deeds
By prayers and red poppies
To help those alone and in need
But let's not forget the men
Who have long since been gone
For without their brave deeds
The battle might still be going on.*

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4450; email <mindenhouse@on.aibn.com>)

Into November and that Christmas word is sneaking into our vocabulary. A few people have mentioned they have finished their shopping, a few others are into it, big time. I am getting more 'last minute' as each year passes so needless to say I have not given it a thought yet. I am just appreciating the reality of my property all ready for winter. I love looking at the lush green lawn now that the leaves are raked and gone. It looks like spring!! Sitting on the porch at the end of the work day, sipping coffee, luxuriating in the glorious weather. Glad to be alive!!

In spite of this glorious weather (at least at the time of writing), the Winterfest Planning Committee is meeting on Wednesday, November 8 at 9:00 a.m. at the Haliburton County Building, upstairs in the chamber room. The committee is inviting anyone and everyone who is interested in such an undertaking and is full of ideas and energy for a county-wide Winterfest with events happening in all the different centres in the county over the week of the 5th to the 11th of February 2001. Now this sounds like a great idea and a grand project!! Bringing together all us at THAT time of year!! Join the group!! I will be anxious to hear what unfolds!!

The Minden United Church is holding its Christmas Luncheon, Bazaar and Bake Sale on Friday, November 10, opening up at 11:00 a.m.

An annual notice: The time of Christmas parties is upon us and the Sunshine Sisters of Carnarvon area will celebrate with dinner on Wednesday, November 15 at Jaspers Restaurant at 6:30 p.m. This is the time when they find out who their Sunshine Sister has been since last Christmas and brings lots of laughs and surprises. There will be the popular Silent Auction also. This group is at least 40 years old and there are still a few of the original ladies participating. They welcome any new ladies, but please call Shirley Wallace at 489-3071 for more information. See you there Sunshine Sisters.

The Minden Health Care Auxiliary is a new group in town!! They are an auxiliary which will be working with the emergency, long term care and the health needs of the community when everything is up and running at the new hospital. They would also like to expand their volunteer work into working with seniors. They have opened the gift shop at the main entrance to Hyland Crest, which is their main fund-raising project for the moment. All the funds raised from the sale of their wares goes toward the hospital and long-term care facilities in Minden. They are open to more ideas for fund-raising in their desire to help the Minden Hospital Fund. They would like to have a specific project. If fund-raising is your expertise or if you are interested in getting on this volunteer team you may call Corinne Arseneault, Norma Nobles, Fern Donnelly and Katie Parker. Also, take this as an advance notice of their Bake Sale and the lighting of the tree festivities on December 13. More closer to that date.

P.S. Yarns are needed by the volunteer knitters of the group. Call any of the above with your extra yarn!!

The Minden Museum Committee is also looking for some donations. They are wanting some split rail fencing for some work around the Museum property. They would also like to get out an early reminder of the traditional Christmas Carol Service at the Wee Kirk which they will hold on December 10 at 2:00 p.m. Mark your busy Christmas calendar with this event!!

A second reminder: The Haliburton Highlands Genealogy monthly meeting on Wednesday, November 8, at the Minden Public Library starting at 6:00 p.m. for business and 'chat' and at 7:00 p.m. 'Bring your Ancestor', for fun and a relaxed evening. Coffee, cookies and 'Bring and Win'!!

What will November bring? A funny month!! In-between. Let's wish for a good one!!

SCORING NEWS

Thursday, October 26: Euchre at the Minden Legion: Most lone hands went to Lois Adamson and Marg McAfee. High scores were won by Verna McDonald and Grace Dixon. Thelma Francis and Roy McDonald were the lows. Other prizes were won by Jim Bradbury and Orval Francis.

Friday, October 27: Duplicate Bridge at Echo Hills: Norm Wheeler and Hal Beach were first with 58%. Mayme Douglas and Vera Carnochan were second with 57% and Carol McCord and Lourene Scott were third with 56%.

Saturday, October 28: Bid Euchre at Stannworth: Ellie Langpohl was first and Marcel Roussel, second. Jean Scadden and Norm Lee found hidden scores. Kevin Maloney, Margaret Fletcher and Milton Fletcher each won a moonshot.

Monday, October 30: Euchre at St. Paul's: Bill Mosley and Gladys Wruth won lone hands. High scores went to Ed Hisson and Iris Taylor with the lows going to Ken Rowden and Betty Sharpe. Ellen Holden found the hidden score. Tim Sharpe, Lorna Hicks and Ed Hisson won the draws. A good time was had by all!!

Bid Euchre at the Kinmount Legion. Dorothy McElwain was high and Mildred St. Thomas and Sherry Morrison tied for second. Vic Balik, Grace Dixon and Dorothy McElwain won moonshots. Vic Balik won the 50/50 draw.

Cribbage at the Minden Legion: Marg Elbers and Roy McDonald were the winners. Clare Brooks, Gwen Cox and Lois Adamson won the draws.

Last week there was an error. One of the winners was Joe Rivers along with Gladys Wruth.

And Marg, I haven't gone anywhere. We have just been missing!!

Euchre at Club 35: Alf Whyman won the 50/50 draw. Harry Randell took lone hands. High scores went to Marjorie Cowen and Marilyn Teljeur. Low scores were captured by Olive Daniels and Paul Thompson. Harry Randell ended the evening with the baloney.

Tuesday, October 31: Bid Euchre at the Minden Legion: The winners of the day were: Pat Scadden; Margaret Fletcher; Milton Fletcher; and Pat Roussel. Lynda Jones, Marcel Roussel, Gala Stamp and Elva Paisley found hidden scores. Pat Roussel and Marg McAfee each won a moonshot.

Contract Bridge at Stanhope: Mike Collins and Wynne Hansen bid and made the one and only small slam. High scores went first to Frank Schlotter with 6669, out in the front in the 'lonely' place on the top and for the second week in a row. Wynne Hansen followed in second with 4460. Betty Schlotter and Mike Collins tied for third with 4350. Betty was in fourth last week so it looks like she and Frank have a routine going!! Now, in honour of Hallowe'en many turned out in outrageous costumes. It was hard to chose winners but it came down to two in a tight-heat tie. Pearl Foster won the 'The Ghost of Mother Theresa Award' and Betty Dicker won 'Pancho Meets Cher in Drag Award.'!!! This is a fun group, eh?? Betty Dicker went on to win the Magic Number Award also.

Wednesday, October 25: Kinmount Senior's Euchre: Joanne Freeman was high and Audrey Vick was low for the women. Gerald Silver and Truman McNeil were the same for the men. Joyce Shellenberg, Ted Wilkins, Nellie Finlay and Glenda Swanston won lone hands. Mary Wilkins won the 50/50 draw.

Wednesday, November 1: Duplicate Bridge at Parklane: North/South, in first with 59%, Muriel McIntosh and Ross Fletcher. In second with 55%, Maria Lehoczy and Mike Collins. East/West, in first with 64%, Norma Crewson and Carol McCord. Tied for second with 57% were Evelyn and Fred Vanderland and Tom Regan and Jack Cox.

Euchre at the Kinmount Legion: High woman was Sandra Roberson and there was a tie for low woman in the names of Isa Hilyer and Sherry Morrison. Bill Sandford was high man and Roger Fournier was low. Bill Sandford went on to win most lone hands and Dorothy McElwain was the lucky winner of the 50/50 draw.

Bid Euchre at Stanhope: Jean Dutka won one moonshot and Alf Whyman won two!! The winners of the night were: Margaret Fletcher, 243; Jean Scadden, 244; Garth Windsor, 251; Rob Evans, 252; and Alf Whyman on top with 259.

Keep up the good cards!!

Strength in Numbers.

CARDS OF THANKS

THANK YOU

I wish to thank all my friends who were able to attend my Housewarming Party Saturday, October 28th. The gifts were so thoughtfully chosen. It was a genuine surprise and such a pleasure. Special love and gratitude to my superb hostess Elinor Kleinschmidt. The goodies were out of this world.
Hazel Dorman.

The family of Ada Ellen (Ellis) Heginbottom, who passed away October 26, 2000 at the age of 92, at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home in Minden, Ontario, wish to thank everyone who provided loving care in its many aspects, to the comfort of our dear mother and grandmother. In Haliburton and Minden villages this includes the medical, nursing, homemaking and volunteer staffs of Extensicare and Hyland Crest, the medical staffs of Minden Hospital and Peterborough Health Care Centre, Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home in Minden and Speers Funeral Home in Toronto and the visits of neighbours and the Bahai Community.

My sincere thanks go out to the Valentines. I appreciate your card of thanks re: the September 23 "attack". It was not Louis Armstrong who wrote "If the heat's too hot, get out of the kitchen" or "All the whining and the crying, let's think about living, let's think about life." The old saying, "You have made your bed and you can lie in it" certainly applies in this situation. Thank you Mr. Valentine for making it so very clear to us.

Kari Burbine

AT REST

Geraldine Catherine
(nee Taylor)

Passed away peacefully at her residence at Horseshoe Lake on Sunday, October 15th, 2000 in her 73rd year. Loving wife of Howard for 53 years. Cherished mother of Bruce, Joan and Jim, Don and Netty. Dear grandmother of Diana (Steve), Stacey (Michael), Paul (Danielle), Donna, Ryan, Amy, Shannon, Tegan, great-grandmother of Kristin, Beth, Bradley and step-grandmother of Jamie and Jeff. Survived by her sister Marilyn and her husband Howard Jennings and by her niece and nephew Tammy and Mark. Friends were invited to visit the family at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home Ltd., 127 Main Street, Minden KOM 2K0 (1-888-588-5777) from 7-9 p.m. on Tuesday and 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. on Wednesday. Funeral Service was held in the Chapel on Thursday, October 19th, 2000 at 2:30 p.m. Cremation. Memorial Donations to the charity of your choice would be appreciated by the family.
